

"The culture of anxiety that pervades public discussion and private behaviour in suburban Australia might well be dissipated if we were to re-establish public spaces, facilities and services that invite inclusive participation and interaction by all". BRENDAN GLEESON MAKING SPACE FOR HOPE IN THE SUBURBS

